News from Slow Food DK – November 2026

Dear Slow Food friends – members and readers of the newsletter

A record number of nominations for the Slow Food Awards 2027. See the list of 29 worthy candidates – and come celebrate the award ceremony with us.

We would like to invite you to the last 4 activities of this year. Events are your opportunity to meet like-minded people and get involved in the Slow Food community. We would love to welcome you at:

- AfterParty and Potluck Dinner, Tuesday 24 November at 5:30 PM. CPH S.
- The film "FrØ" and sourdough pizza, Monday 23 November at 10 AM. IT University, Copenhagen S, Youth Network
- Award Ceremony and Terra Madre Day, Sunday 6 December at 11 AM. Grønt Marked, Enghave Plads, Copenhagen V.
- Slow Food – Fast Beats, celebrating Terra Madre Day, Friday 11 December at 6 PM, Volver Vinbar, Copenhagen N, Youth Network.

Event: Terra Madre After-Party and Potluck Dinner

We come home from Slow Food's international congress Terra Madre in Turin in September full of hope and inspiration. A record number of Danes took part, alongside 1,500+ delegates from 125 countries. We would love to share the energy, ideas and impressions with each other and with all of you who did not have the opportunity to attend Terra Madre this year.

The after-party is also a cosy potluck dinner with inspiring conversations between people interested in changing the food system, both Danish and English will be spoken. Curious guests and members alike are welcome. Max 20 participants.

Event: Award Ceremony and Terra Madre Day

For the fifth time, Slow Food Danmark Network is giving awards to food actors who deserve recognition for keeping the flag flying for good, clean and fair food.

This year, Anne Birgitte Agger / "Gigger" chairs the jury, which consists of board members, previous winners and partners. Everyone contributes their time and energy on a voluntary basis. Thank you so much!

The award ceremony takes place on Terra Madre Day, Sunday 6 December, at Grønt Marked, Enghave Plads, København V.

At 11:00 AM the jury presents the awards, followed by Christmas carols from a local choir. Then, at around 12:15 PM, the recipients will talk about their work, the many daily choices they make, and their joys, thoughts and visions.

Come and celebrate the winners – and say hello to us and to each other.

Editorial – by the Chair of Slow Food Danmark Network

Our chair, Kim Marie Mühlhahn, has had an op-ed published in Jyllands-Posten on 15 November 2026. Here, she asks the question of how it came about that the development of an ambitious Danish agriculture ended up being a left wing-project?

Working as a cook in a folk high school, the course leader for a center-right themed summer course had wished for Danish summer food for the celebratory dinner.

But instead of celebrating classic Danish food culture, his memories of this festive Sunday dinner is rather a tribute to success of industrial export agriculture.

Membership – a Christmas gift for you or a friend – and the world

Can we change the world through food? We believe we can!

Slow Food is a global movement of local communities and activists across more than 160 countries. We defend cultural and biological diversity, promote food education and the transfer of traditional knowledge and skills, and advocate for more just and equitable food policies. For over 35 years, we have worked together to make our food systems more resilient and accessible for all.

A one-year membership for you and/or a friend is a gift that supports Slow Food Denmark's local volunteer work (including events and the preservation of Danish food culture), while also contributing to Slow Food International's global projects.

An annual membership costs DKK 210 for those under 30 and DKK 420 for those over. You sign up via the international website. If you have questions or encounter any issues, please contact bestyrelsen@slowfood.dk.
